

Sjögren-Larsson syndrome affected both males and females equally and its onset is from birth. The incidence of this condition worldwide is unknown. However, the prevalence in Sweden is 1 in every 250,000 individuals.