

Spondylothoracic dysplasia occurs with greater frequency in Puerto Rico and in individuals of Puerto Rican heritage, accounting for about half of all affected individuals reported in the medical literature.