

Protein C deficiency affects men and women in equal numbers. The prevalence of the milder form is about 1 in 200-500 people in the general population. Prevalence is the number of people in a population that have a disorder at a given time. The prevalence of severe protein C deficiency is about 1 in 500,000-750,000 people in the general population.