

Crouzon syndrome affects males and females. Some articles in the medical literature report that males are affected more often than females. Crouzon syndrome is estimated to affect about 1.6 in 100,000 people in the general population. All forms of craniosynostosis are estimated to affect about 1 in 2,000-2,5000 live births.