

Duane syndrome has been seen in diverse ethnic groups. The frequency of DS in the general population of individuals with eye movement disorders (strabismus) is approximately one to 5 percent. Most individuals are diagnosed by the age of 10 years. The female to male ratio of individuals with DS is approximately 60:40, showing a slightly higher preponderance of female patients.